Department of Regulatory Agencies

Public Utilities Commission

- Funding should support new or not-yet-completed projects, not ongoing operations already budgeted.
- Wording was adjusted to stay flexible, that way the board can analyze each request on an individual basis.
- Members agreed they were ready to vote.
- Amy Buch made a motion to approve the fiscal policy
  - Motion seconded by: Andrew Dameron
  - All board members voted in favor

Contract Process

- The board is moving forward with a Personal Services Contract for the Resource Center.
- The state is preparing the contract template and statement of work for review.
- A draft statement of work was shared with the board.
- The contract will likely be annual and require renewal, but the board is checking whether auto-renewal is possible.
- The board discussed how the full-time Resource Center director will support both Resource Center duties and some administrative tasks.
- Clarifying language will be drafted to outline these expectations at a later date.
- Next steps involve finalizing wording, confirming renewal options, and circulating the updated draft.

Board Comments

- There was discussion of possible new legislation next session affecting public safety and 911 funding.
- Early talk of repealing and replacing the Enterprise law seems unlikely now, but changes can still happen.
- Lawmakers are discussing a separate user fee to fund improvements to the state radio system.
- Board members emphasized taking a long term (30-50 year) view on radio system funding instead of splitting costs by user groups.
- Members were encouraged to share any legislative updates to stay informed.
- It was noted that bills usually have draft deadlines in November, but new bills can still appear during the session.
- Board members confirmed the next meeting date and plans to review updates to the statement of work and contracting process.
